

FORMERLY OK SCOFIELD CLOAK & SUIT CO. ORKIN BROS. FORMERLY OK SCOFIELD CLOAK & SUIT CO.

A WONDERFUL SALE OF

Cloth Tailor Suits and Silk Shirt Waist Suits Up to $25.00 Values 75c On Sale Thursday, at

This great sale of high grade stylish cloth tailor suits and silk shirt waist suits will be a wonderful event. Everyone will appreciate the amazing values, and it's one of the rare opportunities that do not come in everyday merchandising. The offer embraces about 200 suits bought by our Mr. J. B. Orkin, from a New York manufacturer at almost his own price, on account of the lateness of the season, and over 150 taken from our own superb stock, making in all

350 Tailor-Made Suits and Shirt Waist Suits

On Sale Thursday, at $7.50

150 TAILOR MADE SUITS

The tailor made suits are all made in correct new styles, in Eton, Bolero, Blouse, Pony Jacket or plain tailor styles with the new style skirts.

THE MATERIALS ARE Broadcloth Suitings, Mixtures, Pannas and Voiles—all colors and all sizes.

NOTES ON OMAHA SOCIETY.

One of the many weddings yesterday was that of Miss Nellie Lulu Back, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Back, and Mr. Edward L. Benson, chief quartermaster of the United States navy, which was solemnized at 3 o'clock at Kountze Memorial church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. H. Hunsington in the presence of about fifty relatives and intimate friends. The groom, attired in his navy uniform, was attended by Mr. H. E. Stevenson as best man, while Miss Marion Back and Miss Beattie Devitt were the bridesmaids. They were gowning in pale blue mull trimmed with lace and carried pink roses. The bride, who entered with her father, wore a pretty gown of white, with Valenciennes lace trimmings, and carried a shower of bride's roses. The church was prettily decorated with daisies and palms, the altar being draped with the American flag. A small reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, 1415 Park avenue. The rooms were prettily decorated with a profusion of cut flowers, ferns and flags, bride's roses being used in the reception room, daisies in the rear parlor and snow-white clovers in the dining room, with white candles. Mr. and Mrs. Benson left late in the afternoon for an extensive eastern trip, after which they will go to Boston, where Mr. Benson is stationed. May 10, 1901, Mr. Benson enlisted at Omaha as landsman for training and was transferred to the naval training station at San Francisco. He served on the United States ship Mohican until May 5, 1904, and was acting as chief quartermaster of that vessel at the time of transfer. He was sent to New York, where he acted as instructor on the receiving ship Hancock for two months, and from there was transferred to the USS Albatross, a school for special course in ordnance, torpedoes and electricity at the torpedo station, Newport, R. I., and the naval gun factory, Washington, D. C. He was honorably discharged as chief quartermaster at Washington May 11, 1905, and re-enlisted the next day as quartermaster, first class, with appointment as chief quartermaster, and was granted a thirty-day leave. After his return from his leave he was detailed to the Illinois, a fleet battleship in the North Atlantic fleet, under Admiral Evans (Fighting Bob), where he has served ever since. He has passed successfully an examination before a board of officers for permanent appointment as chief quartermaster, which is the highest appointment an enlisted man can attain until he has served enough time to make him eligible for warrant, seven years' sea service.

The wedding of Miss Eugenia Conrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Morand, and Mr. William J. Capone of Chicago, which was solemnized today at high noon at St. John's Collegiate church, was a very quiet wedding, owing to a recent bereavement in the family. Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Father Bronsgeest. Mr. D. P. Jamieson acted as best man and the bride was attended by Miss Mary Harriott Murray of Kansas City as maid of honor. Her costume was a princess gown of shirred pink crepe de chine, with pink lace hat trimmed with plumes, and she carried pink bridesmaid roses tied with pink tulle. The bride, who was given away by her father, Mr. W. R. Morand, made a pretty picture in a princess robe of white crepe de chine, with duchess lace bolero. Her long tulle veil was held in place by three princesses of Wales ostrich tips, and her bouquet was a shower of swansons. Her white tulle Miss Judge presided at the organ and during the ceremony a trio was sung by the Misses Livingstone and Leachy and Mr. Hamilton, and at the close of the ceremony Miss Leachy and Miss Livingstone sang a duet. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents on West Dodge street, covers being laid for twelve. The table was adorned with pink roses, pink tulle and pink-shaded candles. Mr. and Mrs. Capone left for Chicago, where they will be at home at 5583 Kimbark avenue. Mr. Capone being in the employ of Armour & Co. Mrs. Capone's going-away gown was a suit of checked lousine silk with French leghorn hat. The out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George Porter of Grand Island and Miss Murray of Kansas City.

A pretty wedding of yesterday was that of Miss Della Fraisher and Mr. James R. Bailey of Payne, Ia., which was solemnized at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. T. Fraisher, 2587 Haney street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. S. Isaac Elder of Hamburg, Ia. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Belle Fraisher, who was attired in a pink and white organza gown and carried pink roses, and the best man was Mr. James R. Bentley of Hamburg, Ia. Little Raney Prael was ring bearer and carried the ring in a lily. The bride wore a pretty gown of blue silk and her bouquet was of bride's roses. The wedding march was played by Miss Edna Fraisher, and just before the ceremony Miss Rozalia J. Fraisher of Milan, Italy, sang "Oh, Promise Me." The rooms were prettily decorated with pink and white roses and smilax and pink-shaded candles, and the ceremony was performed in a bower of greens. A wedding breakfast was served to about thirty guests, the table being surrounded by an arch of greens, on which was a dove, while the centerpiece was of carnations. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will be at home in Payne, Ia., after July 10. The out-of-town guests were: Rev. and Mrs. Elder, Mrs. H. H. Clayton, Mr. J. R. Bentley, Mrs. J. R. Clayton and Miss Emma Gilman of Hamburg, Ia.; Mrs. M. M. Payne and Mr. T. O. Hearn, Payne, Ia.; Mr. E. H. Kimbrell and Mrs. L. Kimbrell, Phelps, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Light, Carroll, Ia.; and Miss Nancy Beebe, Shelby, Neb.

Mrs. J. H. Phillips entertained the South Side Whist club at a charming luncheon yesterday. The decorations were in purple and gold, yellow roses and purple and gold ribbons being used. It was a Dutch luncheon and the places were marked by quaint Dutch cards. Whist followed the luncheon, the prizes being won by Mesdames Shaw, Taggart and Dilworth. Those present were: Mesdames Taggart and Dilworth, Mesdames Hopper, Blanchard, Dilworth, Blags, Tipper, Taggart, Hovey, Hall, Smith, Murphy, Risley, Phillips, Marti, Hutson, E. Harris, Shaw, Despecher, Rankin and Crickmore. Mrs. Marti will entertain the club next time.

Mrs. J. H. Pratt was hostess at a most delightful bridge luncheon at the Country club yesterday, the prizes being won by Mrs. T. J. Mahoney and Mrs. J. R. Scobie. Palms and hydrangeas were used to decorate the rooms and pink peonies adorned the tables, which were laid for Mesdames Allen, R. S. Anglin, Allison, F. A. Brogan, Barker, Bishop, W. F. Burns, Guy Barton, A. J. Beaton, W. H. Clarke, Henry T. Clarke, Jr., R. C. Carrier, Coutant, Cotton, Cummings, Foye, Butler, Gallagher, Short of Cleveland, O.; Gilbert, Gilmore, Heth, Joslyn, Kinsler, Keeline, Kilpatrick, Herman Kountze, Myers, W. B. Meikle, McGilton, Mahoney, W. B. Millard, E. H. Martin, E. C. McShane, J. A. McShane, Harry Nott, Offutt, J. L. Paxton, William, Lowe, McWhorter, R. E. Welch, Raymond, Welch, Vinsonhaller, Yost, Zalinski, Westbrook, Bidwell, Bruce, F. B. Johnson, Scobie, Robinson, Tuttle, Ringwalt, Hopkins of Michigan, H. Hopkins of Minneapolis, Kirkendall, Remington and Miss Balcombe.

This morning at 8 o'clock Miss Gladys Emily Sutphen, daughter of Mr. C. D. Sutphen, and Mr. Edmund Earle Kiplinger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Kiplinger, were quietly married at the Kiplinger residence at 30 South Thirty-second avenue. Only the relatives and intimate friends were present at the ceremony, which was performed by Father McLaughlin of St. Peter's church. The rooms were prettily decorated with cut flowers and palms, lilies of the valley, sweet peas, American beauty roses and carnations being used. Little Dorothy and Donald Kiplinger, sister and brother of the groom, were ring and flower bearers, and Mr. J. C. McClure was best man, while Miss Janet Chambers, in a dainty gown of white and carrying pink roses was maid of honor. The bride wore a pretty gown of white lawn trimmed with Valenciennes lace and carried white roses. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Kiplinger will be at home at 301 South Thirty-second avenue until the completion of their new home at Forty-third and Dodge streets.

One of the weddings today is that of Mrs. Gertrude Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Ringwalt, to Mr. Henry De Mun Hopkins of Seattle, Wash., which took place at 3:30 o'clock at the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Ringwalt in the Hamilton. The ceremony was witnessed by only the closest friends and relatives and was followed by a reception from 4 to 5 o'clock.

This evening the wedding of Miss Fannie Louise Cole and Mr. Edwin Jay Speth will take place at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at St. Martin's church. Rev. Philip Davidson will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a small reception for the relatives and bridal party at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Francis Orla Cole.

At 8 o'clock this evening Miss Henrietta Bartlett, daughter of Judge and Mrs. E. M. Bartlett, and Mr. George Cowles West will be quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, 140 North Thirty-third street, only the relatives and intimate friends being present. Little Alice West will be the ring bearer and the ribbons will be drawn by Nina Garrett and Alice Carr.

Complimentary to Mrs. E. A. Cudahy, Mrs. Frederick H. Davis gave a delightful luncheon, followed by bridge, at the Country club yesterday. The prizes were won by Mrs. Walter Taylor Page and Miss Horace Everett of Council Bluffs. The table, prettily decorated with pink and white peonies, was laid for Mesdames Cudahy, Joseph Barker, C. W. Martin, J. N. Brady, Victor Caldwell, Everett, J. N. Baldwin, Clement Chase, S. D. Barkalow, Madame Barker, W. T. Page, G. E. Pritchett, J. L. Webster, James McKenna, C. C. George, E. E. Clapp, F. H. Davis and Miss Helen Davis.

Mrs. James Dewar and son have returned from Chicago.

BEFORE THE PEOPLE'S BAR

Colored Man Gets Thirty Days for Kicking Wife in the Eye.

PERCY TRUELOVE BREAKS OUT AFRESH

Creates a Pandemonium in the Third Ward that Abuses Even Tom Lee from His Political Dream.

Stump Garth, a colored police court character, was sentenced thirty days Wednesday morning by the magistrate of the people's bar for having committed a vicious assault on the person of Mrs. Hattie Lillard of 903 North Twenty-first street. Witnesses testified that the assault was without provocation. Garth offered a puerile defense.

The assault occurred at 4 o'clock Tuesday evening at Thirtieth and Farnam streets, where Garth met his divorced wife in company with the Lillard woman. The three exchanged a few words and Garth charged Mrs. Lillard with having been a party to his recent domestic troubles. Mrs. Lillard referred Garth to her husband at the Paxton hotel, whereupon Garth knocked the woman down and kicked her in the right eye. Among those who intervened was an elderly man, O. F. Briggs, who testified in the police court.

Garth pleaded not guilty to the charge of assault and battery. He admitted having struck the woman, but said the blow was inflicted when he raised his arm to ward off the woman's right hand jab. The judge asked Garth to make a statement.

"Dat woman, Judge, am nuffin' moah den an agitator. Ebery time she comes in on de street she looks at me or nudges me on de arm," explained Garth. "And that is the reason you struck her. Is it?" questioned the judge. Garth was silent.

Garth was at the time of his arrest out on bond to keep the peace with his divorced wife.

Percy Truelove broke out of his two-bit dormitory on Douglas street at 1:30 Wednesday morning and put new life into the thoroughfare. He started Patrolman Flynn running, woke up all the cab horses on Douglas street and even disturbed the slumbers of City Prosecutor Lee, who was at the time in his apartments at the Arcade hotel, dreaming of what the city council did to him Tuesday evening.

Truelove woke up in his room, ran around the office of the lodging house several times and then a dog took after him. To keep ahead of the dog meant work for Percy, but he was equal to the occasion. Patrolman Flynn finally caught Truelove and sent him to the city jail. Truelove made such a touching appeal to the police judge that he was discharged Wednesday morning and told to be more careful.

Add Blanton, colored, waived the preliminary examination when arraigned in police court on the charge of robbery. He was bound to the district court in the sum of $500. It was charged Blanton robbed John Linhart of $4.50 at Wright's saloon, Twelfth and Dodge streets, Monday night.

Adelbert Edwards, special policeman at the Crystal Park theater, was acquitted in the police court Wednesday morning when tried on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by C. W. Britt on behalf of his son. The prosecution in the case failed to make any case against Edwards.

A. L. Van Gordon, a veterinary surgeon, has been designated by the police judge, before whom Van Gordon was tried on the charge of using the title of "Dr." in connection with his veterinary practice. The intent of the Nebraska Humane society, to get a ruling on an enactment made by the last legislature, it was shown that Van Gordon had not been using the title referred to, although practicing veterinary surgery and dentistry.

Chicago to Buffalo, N. Y., and return, via Nickel Plate road, at one fare plus 3 cents for the round trip. Tickets will be sold from Chicago June 9, 10 and 11, with return limit of June 25. Particulars at Nickel Plate office, 113 Adams St., room 28, Chicago, Ill.

SEASONABLE FASHIONS.

NOS. 4033-4034—A Dainty Summer OR GRADUATING FROCK.

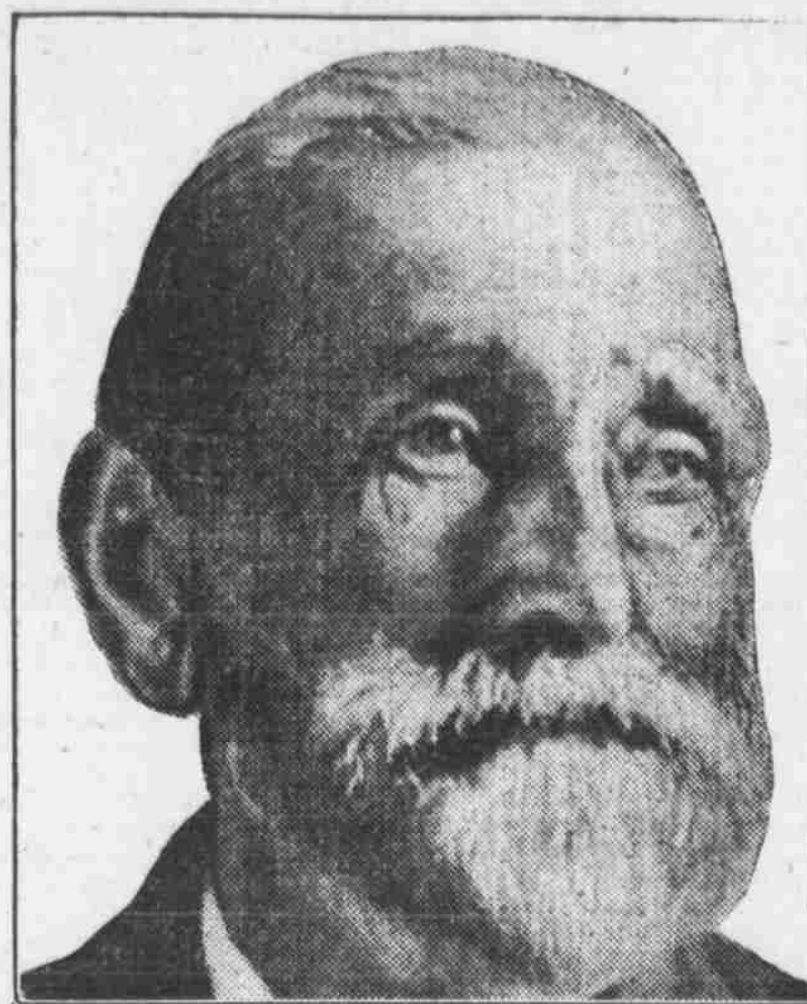

The day of all days to the girl is the event of her graduation from school. It is the stepping from girlhood into womanhood and demands the delicacy of apparel. The dotted and embroidered dresses are charming for such frocks and need only some fine lace to render them most exquisite. Here is given a suggestion for such a gown, made very simply but most appropriate. The round yoke and sleeve frills are made of rows of insertion, sewed together, while a flounce of the same might adorn the bottom of the skirt. Any of the sheer materials could be used to develop this frock. In the medium size, 6 yards of 36-inch goods are needed.

Two Patterns, 4033—SIZES, 12 to 16 years; 4034, sizes, same.

The price of these patterns is 20 cents, but either will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents.

For the accommodation of The Bee readers these patterns, which usually retail at from 25 to 50 cents, will be furnished at a nominal price (10 cents), which covers all expenses. In order to get a pattern enclose 10 cents, giving number and name of pattern wanted and best measure. As the patterns are mailed direct from the publishers at New York, it will require about a week's time to fill the order. Address: Pattern Department, Bee Publishing Co., Omaha, Neb.

Temperance Advocate Recommends and Indorses

MR. HIRAM NICKERSON

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKY

is an absolutely pure, gentle and invigorating stimulant and tonic, builds up the heart, gives power to the brain, strength and elasticity to the muscles and vivifies to the blood. It brings into action all the vital forces, it makes digestion perfect, and enables you to get from the food you eat all the nourishment it contains. It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of good health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong. Seven thousand doctors prescribe and 2,000 hospitals use DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKY exclusively.

Beware of dangerous imitations and substitutes. They are positively harmful and are sold for profit only by unscrupulous dealers. Look for the trade-mark, "Old Chemist," on the label, and be certain the seal over the cork is unbroken. All druggists and grocers, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. Doctor's advice and medical booklet free. DUFFY Malt Whisky Co., Rochester, N. Y.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES.

"The Genius" at the Boyd.

Mr. N. C. Goodwin and company in "The Genius," a farce comedy in three acts, by William C. and Cecil deMille. The

Jack Spencer.....Nat C. Goodwin
Victor Le Mercier, a painter.....Gibbs
Otto Vogelberger, a musician.....Neil O'Brien

Brian McDougal, a sculptor.....Gordon Johnston
Percival Cutterbuck.....H. G. Lonsdale
Cyril Farquhar.....Carey Livingston

Josephine Van Dusen.....Suzanne Perry
Cyrus Jenkins.....M. B. Snyder
Lilly Scott.....Susette Jackson

Mrs. Van Dusen.....Mrs. Louise Rial
Mrs. Van Dusen.....Elinor Adams
Neil Graham.....Edna Goodrich

Edith Berwin, Mabel Reed, Fanny Hickey,
Laurence C. Knapp, Whitlock Tucker, John Ahlberg.

Nat Goodwin may plume himself on one thing. He is probably the only actor on the stage who could crowd the Boyd theater on a hot night, as he did last night.

Not during the height of the season did the fashionable folks turn out as they did last night to see this popular star in "The Genius." The play itself is of the lightest.

Just the sort of thing that can be enjoyed on a hot night—suggestive of a cool spot, with a long glass that contains something murky and a straw. It marks the line between light comedy and broad farce, and in some measure partakes of the elements of both. Mr. Goodwin's role in it requires him to do just what people have become accustomed to seeing him do, and what they expect of him when he comes on the stage. It has no such moments of unctuous fun as "An American Citizen."

nor does it call for any serious endeavor at any time. In fact, it merely presents Mr. Goodwin in a monochrome. But the character of Jack Spencer is surrounded by a quartet of characters that are very essential to the action, and which require delicate and comprehensive treatment.

These are splendidly done by Messrs. Gibbs, O'Brien, Johnston and Lonsdale. Other comedy hits abound, and all are well cared for by members of the cast entrusted with them.

The evening was chiefly notable for the introduction of Miss Edna Goodrich, Mr. Goodwin's leading woman. She won her way from the very first. Miss Goodrich is a beautiful girl, with the freshness of youth in face and figure and a girlish enthusiasm in her voice and manner. Her role is not a very exacting one and calls for little of genuine endeavor, and yet the little she does do is done in a way that suggests possibilities of greater things. Omaha folks will welcome an opportunity to become better acquainted with Miss Goodrich.

The audience was very enthusiastic for so warm an evening and at the close of the second act expressed its pleasure in repeated calls for the star and the company. The engagement was for one performance only.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Representative E. B. Perry of Cambridge.

A leader and one of the youngest members of the lower branch of the last two legislatures, is in the city.

President A. B. Stuckner of the Great Western and F. E. Kellogg, general attorney, from St. Paul, are in the city, registered at the Her Grand.

Edith Berwin, Mabel Reed, Fanny Hickey, Laurence C. Knapp, Whitlock Tucker, John Ahlberg.

Nat Goodwin may plume himself on one thing. He is probably the only actor on the stage who could crowd the Boyd theater on a hot night, as he did last night.

Not during the height of the season did the fashionable folks turn out as they did last night to see this popular star in "The Genius." The play itself is of the lightest.

Just the sort of thing that can be enjoyed on a hot night—suggestive of a cool spot, with a long glass that contains something murky and a straw. It marks the line between light comedy and broad farce, and in some measure partakes of the elements of both. Mr. Goodwin's role in it requires him to do just what people have become accustomed to seeing him do, and what they expect of him when he comes on the stage. It has no such moments of unctuous fun as "An American Citizen."

nor does it call for any serious endeavor at any time. In fact, it merely presents Mr. Goodwin in a monochrome. But the character of Jack Spencer is surrounded by a quartet of characters that are very essential to the action, and which require delicate and comprehensive treatment.

These are splendidly done by Messrs. Gibbs, O'Brien, Johnston and Lonsdale. Other comedy hits abound, and all are well cared for by members of the cast entrusted with them.

The evening was chiefly notable for the introduction of Miss Edna Goodrich, Mr. Goodwin's leading woman. She won her way from the very first. Miss Goodrich is a beautiful girl, with the freshness of youth in face and figure and a girlish enthusiasm in her voice and manner. Her role is not a very exacting one and calls for little of genuine endeavor, and yet the little she does do is done in a way that suggests possibilities of greater things. Omaha folks will welcome an opportunity to become better acquainted with Miss Goodrich.

The audience was very enthusiastic for so warm an evening and at the close of the second act expressed its pleasure in repeated calls for the star and the company. The engagement was for one performance only.

Representative E. B. Perry of Cambridge.

A leader and one of the youngest members of the lower branch of the last two legislatures, is in the city.

President A. B. Stuckner of the Great Western and F. E. Kellogg, general attorney, from St. Paul, are in the city, registered at the Her Grand.

Edith Berwin, Mabel Reed, Fanny Hickey, Laurence C. Knapp, Whitlock Tucker, John Ahlberg.

Nat Goodwin may plume himself on one thing. He is probably the only actor on the stage who could crowd the Boyd theater on a hot night, as he did last night.

Not during the height of the season did the fashionable folks turn out as they did last night to see this popular star in "The Genius." The play itself is of the lightest.

Just the sort of thing that can be enjoyed on a hot night—suggestive of a cool spot, with a long glass that contains something murky and a straw. It marks the line between light comedy and broad farce, and in some measure partakes of the elements of both. Mr. Goodwin's role in it requires him to do just what people have become accustomed to seeing him do, and what they expect of him when he comes on the stage. It has no such moments of unctuous fun as "An American Citizen."

nor does it call for any serious endeavor at any time. In fact, it merely presents Mr. Goodwin in a monochrome. But the character of Jack Spencer is surrounded by a quartet of characters that are very essential to the action, and which require delicate and comprehensive treatment.

These are splendidly done by Messrs. Gibbs, O'Brien, Johnston and Lonsdale. Other comedy hits abound, and all are well cared for by members of the cast entrusted with them.

The evening was chiefly notable for the introduction of Miss Edna Goodrich, Mr. Goodwin's leading woman. She won her way from the very first. Miss Goodrich is a beautiful girl, with the freshness of youth in face and figure and a girlish enthusiasm in her voice and manner. Her role is not a very exacting one and calls for little of genuine endeavor, and yet the little she does do is done in a way that suggests possibilities of greater things. Omaha folks will welcome an opportunity to become better acquainted with Miss Goodrich.

The audience was very enthusiastic for so warm an evening and at the close of the second act expressed its pleasure in repeated calls for the star and the company. The engagement was for one performance only.

Representative E. B. Perry of Cambridge.

A leader and one of the youngest members of the lower branch of the last two legislatures, is in the city.

President A. B. Stuckner of the Great Western and F. E. Kellogg, general attorney, from St. Paul, are in the city, registered at the Her Grand.

Edith Berwin, Mabel Reed, Fanny Hickey, Laurence C. Knapp, Whitlock Tucker, John Ahlberg.

Nat Goodwin may plume himself on one thing. He is probably the only actor on the stage who could crowd the Boyd theater on a hot night, as he did last night.

Not during the height of the season did the fashionable folks turn out as they did last night to see this popular star in "The Genius." The play itself is of the lightest.

Just the sort of thing that can be enjoyed on a hot night—suggestive of a cool spot, with a long glass that contains something murky and a straw. It marks the line between light comedy and broad farce, and in some measure partakes of the elements of both. Mr. Goodwin's role in it requires him to do just what people have become accustomed to seeing him do, and what they expect of him when he comes on the stage. It has no such moments of unctuous fun as "An American Citizen."

nor does it call for any serious endeavor at any time. In fact, it merely presents Mr. Goodwin in a monochrome. But the character of Jack Spencer is surrounded by a quartet of characters that are very essential to the action, and which require delicate and comprehensive treatment.

These are splendidly done by Messrs. Gibbs, O'Brien, Johnston and Lonsdale. Other comedy hits abound, and all are well cared for by members of the cast entrusted with them.

The evening was chiefly notable for the introduction of Miss Edna Goodrich, Mr. Goodwin's leading woman. She won her way from the very first. Miss Goodrich is a beautiful girl, with the freshness of youth in face and figure and a girlish enthusiasm in her voice and manner. Her role is not a very exacting one and calls for little of genuine endeavor, and yet the little she does do is done in a way that suggests possibilities of greater things. Omaha folks will welcome an opportunity to become better acquainted with Miss Goodrich.

The audience was very enthusiastic for so warm an evening and at the close of the second act expressed its pleasure in repeated calls for the star and the company. The engagement was for one performance only.

Representative E. B. Perry of Cambridge.

A leader and one of the youngest members of the lower branch of the last two legislatures, is in the city.

President A. B. Stuckner of the Great Western and F. E. Kellogg, general attorney, from St. Paul, are in the city, registered at the Her Grand.

Edith Berwin, Mabel Reed, Fanny Hickey, Laurence C. Knapp, Whitlock Tucker, John Ahlberg.

Nat Goodwin may plume himself on one thing. He is probably the only actor on the stage who could crowd the Boyd theater on a hot night, as he did last night.

Not during the height of the season did the fashionable folks turn out as they did last night to see this popular star in "The Genius." The play itself is of the lightest.

Just the sort of thing that can be enjoyed on a hot night—suggestive of a cool spot, with a long glass that contains something murky and a straw. It marks the line between light comedy and broad farce, and in some measure partakes of the elements of both. Mr. Goodwin's role in it requires him to do just what people have become accustomed to seeing him do, and what they expect of him when he comes on the stage. It has no such moments of unctuous fun as "An American Citizen."

nor does it call for any serious endeavor at any time. In fact, it merely presents Mr. Goodwin in a monochrome. But the character of Jack Spencer is surrounded by a quartet of characters that are very essential to the action, and which require delicate and comprehensive treatment.

These are splendidly done by Messrs. Gibbs, O'Brien, Johnston and Lonsdale. Other comedy hits abound, and all are well cared for by members of the cast entrusted with them.

The evening was chiefly notable for the introduction of Miss Edna Goodrich, Mr. Goodwin's leading woman. She won her way from the very first. Miss Goodrich is a beautiful girl, with the freshness of youth in face and figure and a girlish enthusiasm in her voice and manner. Her role is not a very exacting one and calls for little of genuine endeavor, and yet the little she does do is done in a way that suggests possibilities of greater things. Omaha folks will welcome an opportunity to become better acquainted with Miss Goodrich.

The audience was very enthusiastic for so warm an evening and at the close of the second act expressed its pleasure in repeated calls for the star and the company. The engagement was for one performance only.

Representative E. B. Perry of Cambridge.

A leader and one of the youngest members of the lower branch of the last two legislatures, is in the city.

President A. B. Stuckner of the Great Western and F. E. Kellogg, general attorney, from St. Paul, are in the city, registered at the Her Grand.

Edith Berwin, Mabel Reed, Fanny Hickey, Laurence C. Knapp, Whitlock Tucker, John Ahlberg.

Nat Goodwin may plume himself on one thing. He is probably the only actor on the stage who could crowd the Boyd theater on a hot night, as he did last night.

Not during the height of the season did the fashionable folks turn out as they did last night to see this popular star in "The Genius." The play itself is of the lightest.

Just the sort of thing that can be enjoyed on a hot night—suggestive of a cool spot, with a long glass that contains something murky and a straw. It marks the line between light comedy and broad farce, and in some measure partakes of the elements of both. Mr. Goodwin's role in it requires him to do just what people have become accustomed to seeing him do, and what they expect of him when he comes on the stage. It has no such moments of unctuous fun as "An American Citizen."

Broken in health, the result of a disease contracted on the battlefield, and suffering from a general breakdown, Mr. Nickerson was restored to robust, happy health by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky.

This is his sincere letter of thanks:

When a man is discouraged and constantly suffering he very naturally has a deep feeling for the remedy that brings him the happiness attained through robust health.

I take a teaspoonful of Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky every morning, beaten up with a raw egg and two-thirds of a glass of milk. On retiring at night I take a tablespoonful in hot water and sugar. Before I began with Duffy's I was badly broken in health and completely run down. My right leg and foot was cold up to my knee all the time and I could not keep warm nights.

Was also bothered with shakes, contracted through exposure during the Civil War, when I served in the United States Army.

I recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky to all old soldiers, or, in fact, to any person who is broken in health or growing old.

Now, though I am a temperance man, despising the indiscriminate use of intoxicants, I heartily indorse Duffy's Pure Malt Whisky. HIRAM NICKERSON, Warren Ave., Middleboro, Mass.

FROM OUR LETTER BOX

Personal and Religious.